Art does not flourish in hidden places, nor under restraint, nor in ignorance of what talent and genius have accomplished and are accomplishing throughout the world. For to follow precedent wisely does not mean to imitate slavishly one great exemplar, but to study all masters faithfully, letting their great achievements sink slowly into the mind in order that we may patiently derive from the richness of our acquired knowledge and organized system an attitude of our own. The sprightly minded young man, who with his first business breath projects the new and startling, inevitably becomes tiresome, and is driven to an early disappearance while the slower, more solidly endowed student will at least spend as much of his time in avoiding mistakes as in evolving brilliant i wherewith to dazsle bis contemporaries. The best kind of i la that which cornea after a sound apprenticeships that which a to be the blending of a firm conception of all useful precedent and the progressive tendencies of an able mind. For, let a man be as able and original as he may, he cannot afford to discard knowledge of what has gone before or wl nay, he cannot anord to discard knowledge ot what has what is now going on in his own trade and profession. MONOTYPE FACES The best kind of originality is that which comes after a sound apprenticeship; that which shall prove to be the blending...
